Evidence demonstrates that the majority of cyber attacks start by targeting the user, using techniques such as social engineering. It has also been shown that many attacks can be prevented by better cyber security practices. Our Baseline Briefing takes delegates through real life examples of how cyber criminals attack individuals and organisations as well as provides actionable advice to mitigate them.

Our Cyber Griffin team share their personal experiences in preventing and investigating cyber crime. Using the latest statistics and industry best practice, we follow a typical attack path through social engineering, phishing, and malware attack. We also cover critical areas in secure connections, account security, and emerging threats.

Our briefing is focused on actionable advice to ensure that all delegates are equipped to put their new cyber security skills straight into practice. Whatever your level of knowledge, our Baseline Briefing is an ideal way to introduce, or refresh, your understanding of threats and protection tactics, that will help to keep you safe whilst online.
